

The Collège communautaire du Nouveau-Brunswick will celebrate very soon its 40th anniversary of existence. Although still a young establishment, the CCNB is the heir to an educational tradition which was bequeathed particularly from the Université du Sacré-Cœur and the Collège de Bathurst, then also the New Brunswick School of Fisheries (École des Pêches du Nouveau-Brunswick). These are all establishments which shape the CCNB into the College of yesterday and of today.

The Collège communautaire du Nouveau-Brunswick is a Francophone autonomous Crown Corporation since May 30, 2010. The CCNB serves all the French-speaking and Acadian communities of New Brunswick via its five campuses located at Bathurst, Campbellton, Dieppe, Edmundston and in the Acadian Peninsula.

The Head Office of the CCNB is located at Bathurst, in the North-Eastern Region of New Brunswick.

Mission

Our mission is to contribute to the development of the Acadian, French-speaking persons and all peoples by offering training centered on competences in consortium with labour markets, by supporting industrial applied research activities which stimulate the innovative process and by actively engaging us within our communities.

The CCNB offers you more than 90 regular programs to achieve your future goal. For more information, please visit our Web site.
